Inquiry-Based Learning Model

Ask the Essential Question ← An essential question is a question that requries students to make a decision or develop a course of action

↓

Ask Foundation Questions — A foundation question is a "What is" question. These question provide factual information and structure student investigation. They also contribute to the development of a keyword list.

↓

Develop a Search Strategy

↓

Find Information

↓

Filter and Distill Info rmation — Is the information at the site useful?

Does the information originate from a readily recognizable expert, organization, or person?

If so, answer foundation quesitons

↓

Cross-reference information — Can the information at the site be cross-referenced with other sources of reliable information?

↓

Do you have enough information to answer the question?

if no (loops back to Develop a Search Strategy)

if yes ↓

Develop the answer

↓

Develop a product — A traditional product such as an essay
A WebEssay
A hypermedia product
A presentation